'Ramshackle Inn' Is Next Play

FOOTLIGHTERS OFFER SHARE PROFITS TO YOUTH GROUPS

The Footlighters, Campbell little theatre players group, are now rehearsing the mystery-comedy, "Ramshackle Inn", for presentation in the High School Auditorium on December 3, the major share of proceeds being for youth organizations of the community. Instead of arranging with one specific organization for sponsorship, the players are inviting all groups whose primary objective is the promotion of youth welfare, to participate in the ticket sale and in the profits of the evening. This provides an opportunity for such groups to take part in a worthy money-raising activity without the work and expense of staging an entertainment within their own membership.

From each 75c ticket sold by such participating organizations, the Footlighters are offering a 30c share. This means that the players are paying all expenses of the production from the 32c which remain after federal amusement taxes have been paid.

Organizations desiring to secure tickets from the Footlighters may contact Mrs. Marye Parker, ticket chairman, (FR 8-2066), or Dean Chamberlin, director, (FR 8-4627).

The play is a mystery-comedy originally written for Zazu Pitts in the Broadway production. It skillfully blends suspense and humor around the personality of a naive spinster who stumbles into a ring of criminals.

Mrs. Marian Nelson plays the lead, supported by Alma Fanning, George Nelson, Genevieve and Phil Cosentino, Verdun and Zee Romer, Carolyn Coons, Jim Strimpel, Bud Levenberg, Norm and Lucille Corvella, and LBen Howard.

The setting of the old inn is being constructed by a committee under the leadership of Ernie Leick and Ethan Lanphear.

Dean Chamberlin and LBen Howard are co-directors.

CAMPBELL TO STUDY QUITO ANNEX ACTION

Civic leaders in Campbell this week were becoming increasingly concerned over a movement started by San Jose to further extend boundary lines from Moreland in the direction of Quito Park and Saratoga.

That a meeting to further these plans has been scheduled for next Wednesday evening at the Moreland School will be open to the public, may bring a strong delegation from Campbell contending that such move would invade the sphere of influence as set up for Campbell by the County Planning department.

Richard Morton, Mayor of Campbell, is to officially represent the city at the hearing.

The fire was discovered by a tenant in the building who immediately called the Fire Department which sent three trucks hurrying to the scene. Cause of the fire is not known and damage is estimated at approximately $3,000. No one was injured.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Stoner, owners of the apartments, highly praised the prompt and efficient work of the twenty-three firemen who responded to the call, and said they greatly appreciated the men moving and covering their furniture which helped keep down the cost of their loss.

Los Gatos Wars On San Jose On Annexation Arm

Los Gatos, irked by San Jose's recent West Valley annexation strip which plucked off the only cemetery Los Gatos had, decided Monday at a council meeting to throw out a protective arm against any further encroachments. The town councilmen threw off their "orderly growth" mantle and prepared to fight.

Councilman James Thompson said it was time to take the offensive and fight back. Already San Jose annexing propagandists are in high gear and no fringe area is safe unless the town or city puts up a defense.

None of the councilmen demurred from Thompson's stand, but agreed wholeheartedly that the time had come for Los Gatos to take the initiative.

Councilman Charles Gamble charged that San Jose had made a "dirty weapon" out of the strip annexation method, but there is no recourse but for Los Gatos to use it for its own protection.

"Los Gatos," he quipped, "should adopt the slogan of 'Live in Los Gatos and be Buried in San Jose.'"

"The cemetery grab," Gamble told the council, "would make the old Los Gatos turn over in their graves if they knew they were being hauled into San Jose."

Town Manager Karl Baldwin told the council there was nothing Los Gatos could do legally to stop San Jose's latest strip, which hits within a mile of the present town limits. But, he declared, "San Jose certainly has abused the uninhabited and strip annexation laws in extending nearly a six-mile arms into the West Valley."

Mayor A. E. Merrill, joining in the fray, stated that Los Gatos "no longer should consider it improper or unethical to use the strip annexation device."

The mayor declared that the town should get moving immediately and indicated that he lately had been looking along the Los Gatos creek area north of town for possible annexation moves.

Thompson, in eyeing immediate annexation moves for the town, said, "why couldn't we strip annex up Los Gatos creek and then cut over to National ave."

The council, in considering use of the strip, departed from its former stand of annexation only by "an orderly and planned growth," delivered in Baldwin's annexation report last spring. The aim then had been of "logical development."

San Jose's proposed annexation last week would take in a 190-acre area lying between Union and National aves. and including the cemetery, over the protests of the Los Gatos cemetery Association, to maintain the necessary contiguity to reach National ave.

The conservatory in San Francisco's Golden Gate Park, a glass building the length of a city block, houses many rare plants.

Charles Gubser was reelected Congressman from the tenth district over Paul Birmingham, Democrat. Jack Thompson was reelected State Senator defeating D'Angelo.

The county gave substantial majorities for the re-election of Governor Knight, Lt. Gov. Powers, U. S. Senator Kuchel, state treasurer Charles Johnson, Controller Robert Kirkwood and Secretary of State Frank Jordan.

The county voted along with the state on the twenty propositions, rejecting the pension measure, favoring school bonds, veteran loan bonds; it rejected proposed pay boost for legislators but approved it for supervisors. The pari-mutuel betting at the fair proposal was voted down along with a proposal to have the fair administered by the Board of Supervisors rather than by the county executive.

More than 100,000 votes were cast in the county, largest turn out to the polling booths in the county history.

SMOKE RINGS FROM THE ELECTION

With election over for another two years, we might just as well relax and let those who got the most votes take over the offices. Likely as not they will do a good job of it. The pattern of the election came out just about as we predicted it would a fortnight ago, that a last minute splurge would be made. Some of the things said of opponents in the heat of the campaign really had little merit, except as a medium to sway votes. That is one of the weaknesses of the elective system—candidates stay in the political ring swinging in all directions while the fight is on, then they go to their corners puffing and, win or lose, say when the ballots are counted, that his opponents were pretty good fellows after all.

The Press was 96 percent right on its election slate, so we feel, like the electorate does, that everything turned out all right.

STORY OF TWO IMMIGRANTS

A short while ago a man died after having amassed quite a little fortune, and because he came to this country as an immigrant, he willed all of his fortune except $1,000 to the Government of the United States. It was but small repayment for the freedom and opportunity which this country gave to me, he said in his will.

Then there was another immigrant who came over here and amassed a fortune and made millions of people all over the world laugh at his antics even to the point of tears. His role was that of a sad-faced little man who was picked on by everyone, but who finally won out. Charlie Chaplin is still alive, but in spite of the things this country did for him, he does not have the respect for it as did the other immigrant.

Through all those years when Chaplin, an immigrant from England, was gaining great fame and a vast fortune in America, he had a secret. The secret was that he didn't like this country at all. He didn't like our political institutions; our social ideas; our materialist capitalism.

Now, from Switzerland, where he has lived for years, Chaplin announces he is going to make a new picture showing life as it really is over here—a picture "not bitter, but funny." He says he will recount the story of a little man from Europe who goes to America expecting everything to be wonderful and is hit by disillusionment.

Chaplin is confident, according to the report, that his picture cannot but fascinate us Americans. Yet it is to be wondered if Charlie Chaplin won't be miscast in his role because of the changed circumstances in his life.

All Americans, just as Chaplin once was, are either immigrants from Europe and other far places or descendants of immigrants. However, most of the 160,000,000 Americans, in contrast to Chaplin, have the notion that this is the grandest land in all the world—a glory of a land to love, and to live in and work in and die in.

Perhaps, in his own mind, Charlie Chaplin is still playing the role of picked-on little man. For when he last left America, no one seemed to mind. When the U. S. government told him to stay away, there was no popular protest in his favor. The tragedy of Chaplin is that, in American eyes, he is still the clown of old—but he is no longer funny.

VETERANS' DAY

Armistice Day is gone. Its departure is unlamented, not because the world is any less peace-minded than it was in years past, but simply because Armistice Day has long since lost its original meaning.

The new observance on November 11 each year will be Veterans' Day. This is much more sensible. The men who have served the Nation are deserving of such tribute, and a grateful people will gladly accept this opportunity to express their thanks to the ex-servicemen.

TOUGH PROBLEM

The extent to which educational facilities have dropped behind the demand for learning was highlighted last week when State Attorney General Edmund Brown ruled that San Jose State College had "no legal justification" for barring some 1500 students from registering because of lack of facilities. However, it is one thing to rule against the barring of students, but it's another to provide the facilities necessary to accommodate them. The situation at San Jose State is not unusual, but is common to most of the eleven State colleges in California. Dr. John T. Wahlquist, president of San Jose State, points out that "we cannot educate beyond our financial ability, regardless of the Attorney General's opinion." Mr. Brown was stating a principle, but in this instance, cold cash is necessary to put the principle into full operation. With the State hard pressed financially to meet its growing problems and problems of growing, the colleges are feeling the pinch acutely. But it would be folly indeed to let our higher educational facilities fall so far behind the need as to seriously impair the opportunity for learning.

THIS IS FUTURE HOMEMAKER WEEK

A Campbell High School senior, Masako Kawauchi, who is secretary of the statewide organization of Future Homemakers of America was present at Sacramento recently as Governor Goodwin Knight signed the following proclamation.

"The American home is the fountain of strength for our Nation. Just as our past was built upon the foundation of the home, so our future depends upon the family life of our people."

"Through participation in the programs of the Future Homemakers of America, girls of today are preparing to assume the responsibilities of the most important single occupation in our country—that of homemaker. Activities which are designed to help our young people become better citizens render valuable patriotic service to our Republic. The loyalty and affection which are essential to any successful home are also requisites of good citizenship."

"In commemoration of the tenth anniversary of the founding of Future Homemakers of America, I, Goodwin J. Knight, Governor of California, hereby proclaim October 31 to November 6, 1954, as FUTURE HOMEMAKERS WEEK in California. I urge that the greatest possible recognition be given to the programs of these young ladies in order to encourage family pride and the mutual respect and affection which makes the abode of the family a home in the fullest sense of the word."

Landowners May Sue Sunnyvale Over Annexation

Leave to sue to determine the right of the City of Sunnyvale to annex property known as "Lawrence Manor Annexation" was granted today to Mabel L. Britton and the D'Arrigo Bros. Co., of California, Inc., by Attorney General Edmund G. Brown.

Permission to test the annexation in court was granted on contentions of the plaintiffs that owners of over fifty percent of the land annexed opposed the annexation, which was accomplished by an emergency ordinance.

The petitioners contend that the power to govern and tax the inhabitants of the territory annexed constitutes a franchise and thus the passage of such an ordinance as an urgency measure is void. The attorney general concedes the argument on the urgency clause is passing an annexation ordinance constitutes grounds for the issuance of a leave to sue.

The opinion was prepared by Deputy Attorney General Charles A. Barrett of San Francisco.

Freeway Job To San Mateo Firm

The L. C. Smith Company of San Mateo was the low bidder on a contract to build a section of Route 5 freeway through a section of Los Gatos, the bid of $1,199,110 being considerably under the $1,500,000 estimated cost. Other bidders were the Granite Construction Co. of Watsonville and a joint firm headed by Dan Caputo and Ed Keeble of San Jose.

Final approval of the contract will be made when bids are checked. The contract is for construction of the highway from the south limits of Los Gatos to Saratoga avenue, and includes grading of the proposed highway are from Saratoga avenue to Roberts road.

Bridges will be built across Los Gatos Creek at Saratoga avenue and on Miles avenue to allow traffic access to the PG&E substation and lowland property along the creek. A pedestrian overcrossing will be built from the rear of University School across the creek to the athletic field.

Specifications also call for a traffic "braid" at the intersection of S. Santa Cruz avenue and the freeway to permit Santa Cruz highway traffic to enter the Los Gatos business district.

Christmas Club At Cambrian Bank

This year the Bank of America will send out 400,000 Christmas Club checks throughout the state, totaling $48,000,000, to those people who have followed the popular Christmas savings plan during the past 12 months. This is a marked increase over the $40,000,000 distributed to 336,000 Californians last year.

Although the Christmas Club funds are used primarily for gift shopping, Roland Rizzo, manager Cambrian Park Branch stated, they also have been found to be an excellent means to use in the payment of taxes, insurance premiums and in starting permanent savings accounts. He added that Christmas Club accounts for 1955 are now being opened at the branch.

SERVICE NOTES

Navy Ens. Lowell E. Grattan, of 545 Briarwood way, Campbell, has returned with Patrol Squadron 22 to the Barber's Point Naval Air Station at T. H. Oahu, completing six months of patrol duty in the Alaskan area.

Despite ice, fog, wind, and rain, the squadron conducted daily patrols in the Bering and Chukchi Seas, completing an accident-free record.

Notable among the squadron's activities were long range ice patrols far into the Arctic circle in support of the Beaufort Sea icebreaker expedition. This expedition, spearheaded by the United States' icebreakers Northwind and Burton Island, plus the Canadian icebreaker Labrador, pushed through ice-bound McClure Strait to open for the first time in history, the long-sought "Northwest Passage".

The "Neptune" patrol planes, operating from Elson Air Force Base at Fairbanks, kept a steady check on the critical ice conditions along Alaska's northern coastline.

Colombia's economy is basically agricultural, coffee being the country's leading export.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Man's true selfhood as the spiritual image and likeness of God, ever free from sin, sickness, and suffering will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Adam and Fallen Man" includes the following passage from the King James Version of the Bible (Genesis 1:27): "So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them."

The unchanging perfection of the man of God's creation will be brought out in passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy including the following (476: 28-32): "When speaking of God's children, not the children of men, Jesus said, 'The kingdom of God is within you; that is, Truth and Love reign in the real man, showing that man in God's image is unfallen and eternal.'"

BOILER EQUIPMENT IS REMOVED FROM HUNT CANNERY FORMER PLANT

The removal this week of two huge boilers and other equipment from the Hunt Cannery plant on Harrison avenue brought to an end the cannery facilities for this firm here and left the building available for warehousing or for sale to other industrialists.

One boiler was sold to a packing plant at Rawlins, Kern County while the second went to Mayfair Packing Company at San Jose. Kelly Bros. Riggers, did the moving job by jacking up the boiler, placing planks underneath, then rolled to the street where huge cranes picked it up so that a large, flat-bed truck could be moved underneath for carrying to the railroad and placed on a flat car.

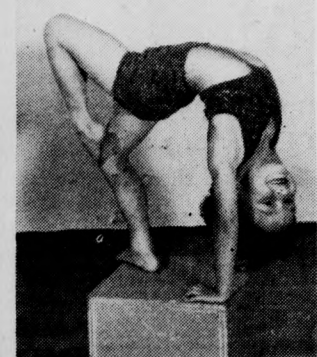

The building is on the market and the Chamber of Commerce is interested in presenting it to prospective industrialists because of spur trackage and shipping facilities.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Carnett of 790 Salerno Way, Barbara has amazing rhythm in her dance numbers, according to Gordon.

'HEY THERE,' A COMEDY WITH 200 IN CAST OPENS HERE THIS EVENING

With some 200 students of Campbell High School in the cast, the PTA variety show, "Hey There" is opening this evening with Steve Hunter, a junior class student as master of ceremonies. Ken Wallace, drama instructor credits Hunter with being proficient with ad lib work and that some 287 gags are to be expected.

Opening gag by Marilee Reilman and Dan Zanvettor will not have its full impact until the close of the performance. It is a variety show with music, drama, comedy and western features.

Dick Gordon is to lead the high school orchestra in three symphonic numbers, one featuring a trumpet solo by Tony Sponsler and another a piano "Flight of the Bumble Bee" by Pete Parysek. Lighter tunes include "Skolian Dance", "Hawaiian Strings", and a fast "Cumuna" piano solo by Art Sutton.

The Campbell High Choir, under the baton of Frank Trina will use a candlelight procession for the first time as they enter singing, "I Believe". Then as the Campbell High Cadets, in full uniform, stand at attention, the largest American flag ever seen in the Valley will fall from the ceiling. To complete the patriotic picture, Ballerina Evelyn Judd will pirouette to the immortal words found inspiring new Americans on our Statue of Liberty, "Give Me Your Tired, Your Poor . . ."

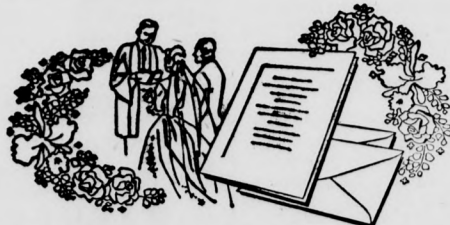

Nick De Rose, who has a fine baritone voice and is a high school sophomore, will sing "Asleep in the Deep". Then "Bells" by Edgar Allan Poe will be read. Elayne Rose and Carol Dampier will dance "The Seasons".

Variety fans will especially enjoy Tom Monahan's monologue, "Football" as seen by a Kentucky hillbilly, and a rebirth of the "Window Gag" made famous forty years ago by Gallagher and Sheehan but being revived by Marilee Reilman and Clayton Shanrock. In like manner, Ron Trevethan and Fred Buckingham will offer the old Horserace betting routine, which will remind you of the Marx Brothers in their better days. For the first time ever on a local stage, two high school boys, Jon Wilson and Neal Cavanaugh will pull the strings for a puppet act.

The Westerners, Willis Dahl, Joyce Gomes, Eddie Abner, and Hoyte Henry will move as one guitar as they make "Grand Ole Opry" come to life on the local stage. Wallace says this show will have better music, more laughs, and more variety entertainment than anything given you in the past. The show will be repeated tomorrow night.

LIONS BULB BAG CONTEST IS OFF TO GOOD START

"The Campbell Lions Club fund drive 'Bag of Bulbs' got off to a good start Monday night and people are most generous in their purchases", so stated Verle Grizzle, president of the club, here today. The club is very happy over the response and plan to cover the entire Campbell area, starting every evening after dinner.

Glen DuBois is chairman of the fund drive and is assisted by Len Campbell, Jack Arends, Rudy Golden and G. L. York.

The main project of the club is guided by Al Ellis, chairman of the Sight Conservation and Blind committee, who is responsible for the fund for the purchase of glasses for any deserving person who, because of circumstances beyond their control, have no other way of obtaining them. This is a revolving fund and has been in continuous operation since 1951 when it was set up. Among other activities of the club is the delivering of Christmas baskets to deserving families each year.

The Lions feel their "Bag of Bulbs" drive is important to the community in three ways. First, it helps the club to help others; second, it helps the customers by bringing better illumination to their homes as a result of the drive; and third, it helps deserving people who have no other way of receiving this type of aid.

Chief Locke Says Hallowe'en Fun Well Controlled

A woman motorist received the shock of her life last Saturday evening when she discovered what appeared to be the lifeless body of a man lying at the side of Winchester Road, near Catalpa Lane.

After flagging down a cruising police car, she returned to the scene of the supposed accident with the police and discovered the body to be nothing more than a Hallowe'en prank. A dummy dressed in an old hat, shirt and jeans and stuffed with paper, was crumpled in a realistic fashion to resemble a man. The dummy is now an inmate of the Police Station.

Police Chief Locke reports no damage done on Hallowe'en and that this year the children were even better behaved than last year.

Sweet Charity

(Elinor V. Cogswell)

FOR SWEET CHARITY'S SAKE
It looks as if I'd have to side with Supervisor Joe McKinnon, a novel experience for me and a matter of complete indifference to him. Joe goes his way in the Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors, playing the game by his own rules and not giving a hoot for the hooting from the sidelines.

He balked the other day at rezoning some lots in a residence district so that the Beverley-Burbank Lions Club could sell them as apartment sites rather than for single family homes.

It was also a vote against a devious sort of intimidation and McKinnon wasn't afraid to cast it. Neither, I am glad to say, were Sam Della Maggione and our own Walter Gaspar.

The club's maneuver, if it had succeeded, would have put money into its pockets and won it a philanthropist's crown—all at the expense of residential property values and the supervisors' integrity.

It reminds me of the kind of store that gives 10 per cent of a certain day's receipts to a charitable organization, expecting the members to serve as saleswomen, their friends to buy lavishly, and newspapers to give it publicity worth far more than its "donation" to charity.

In the same category are merchants who, having loaned the chairs or provided the pink lemonade for the club bazaar, demand a note on the program, a resolution of thanks, word of mouth gratitude, and mention in the paper as "among these whose generosity made the party a success."

Generosity? Hardly. More than paid by the goodwill of the club members, the donor of $5 worth of He balked in spite of the fact that the club offered to give a large parcel of land as a recreation center for the blind—if the land were rezoned.

That fixed it so that a vote against rezoning was a vote against the blind.

Don't get me wrong. I don't consider this type of phony philanthropy typical of the business people of Palo Alto or any other community I know. In fact, the merchants are nicked for so many contributions that I wonder any of them can make a profit to take an income tax deduction on.

Undisturbed beneath the 270 green-lawned acres of San Francisco's Lincoln Park, lie the burial grounds of Chinese and Italians, and an old-time Potters Field.

Students Meet At Camp Campbell

A group of 54 high school boys from all over Santa Clara County met at Camp Campbell, the Y. M. C. A. Camp last week end. The purpose of the retreat was two-fold: first to equip each officer with the basic knowledge of his duties so that, through his intelligent leadership, his club might become stronger and better equipped for the year's "Y" program; and second, to assist in the overall planning for the coming year's program.

Pete Woll was camp director and was ably assisted by Larry Newberry, Dean of Boys at Campbell High School; Tom Fine, Y. M. C. A. Extension Director for Campbell; Frank Thome, and Carl Metzger.

Four Hi-Y clubs from Campbell were represented. Ron Citta, Don Field, Walt McFarland, and Jim Corbus attended from El Diablo Hi-Y; Roger Lukehart and Fred Esparza represented Eta Phi Hi-Y; Dick Mills and Glenn Delzell from El Oso Hi-Y; Rodger Flagg, Conrad Kersey, Steve Hunter, John Duncan, and Art Sutton represented Ace Hi-Y. Leaders and their families from Campbell were Verdun Romer, Larry Newberry, John Runcie and Bob O'Neil.

SHADY AREA IS NATURAL FOR PRIMULA PLANT

The primula family is often mentioned as being well suited for planting in shady areas of the garden. One of the finest members of this group is rapidly coming to high esteem for garden use. This is Primula Obconica which has long been used as an inexpensive house pot plant. One of the showiest of the primula family, primula obconica is relatively easy to cultivate in the garden and gives the longest show of color of any of this group. Planted through the fall a planting should give some immediate color and remain dormant through the cold weather. With the advent of warmer weather in the spring, the plants will reactivate and bloom on till summer heat. With luck some of the plants will survive and complete a full second cycle. Few plants that furnish color over a long period of time are capable of so long a life cycle.

Color range in primula obconica is limited to white, blue, red, rose, pink and salmon. Individual flowers are 2 1/2" across and flower often ten to twenty flower stems heads average the size of a saucer. will be present at one time. When the flowering is extraheavy, the plant will be helped by removing them for cut flowers. A maximum of four or five flowering stems per plant is the actual capacity of the plant if it is to retain its vigor and continue in good bloom.

Primula Obconica is a shade garden plant. It has a particularly fine root structure and requires a soil rich in humus such as peat moss or leaf mold. Excellent drainage is a must for success, so raised beds are suggested whenever the soil is heavy and tends to hold excessive moisture. Light fertilizing at weekly intervals is in order as the flower buds start and spraying is necessary to control white fly. Once in fall and again in spring the ground should be drenched with dieldrin to discourage ants and cutworms.

In buying a flat of primula obconica, if there are more than can be used for the garden, pot up the surplus. This can be done satisfactorily even though there are no greenhouse facilities just by pushing the pots into the ground to the depth of the rim. Set a layer of sand or peat moss under and around them to insure good drainage. A pinch of fertilizer should be added every other week to keep the plants in a good state of growth. As the first flower stems appear, pinch them off to strengthen the plant. With little trouble fine specimens can be developed.

tainer, holding white chrysanthemums, three dark green balls and a tall white candle. The tea is to be held at two o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Saratoga Foothill Clubhouse on Park Way, with tickets available at the door. The affair is expected to be one of the social events of the season.

College To Show Prune Catcher Next Saturday

A labor-saving device to cut cost of prune harvesting is being shown in motion pictures at the sixth California Prune Day this Saturday at the Davis campus of the University of California.

The frame itself, a light, folding canvas-and-wood affair that can be built on the farm, will be on display at the meeting. Experiments this year by agricultural engineer Allan A. McKillop, on the staff at Davis, indicate that labor costs as low as $8 a ton for the season might be attained. This is in contrast with the piece rate for hand picking from the ground of $9 per ton.

McKillop says that comparisons of fruit quality harvested with and without the frame are not completed but it is certain that fruit dropping a short distance onto canvas should be better than fruit that falls to the ground.

Other problems of the prune industry will be covered in the day-long program, which begins with registration at the Horticulture Building at 9 a. m.

The program will cover bacterial canker, by W. H. English and C. J. Hansen; brown rot and other diseases, by E. C. Scott and W. H. English; cultivation, by W. E. Martin; hormones and growth promotion, by R. W. Harris and C. J. Hansen; maturity tests, by L. L. Claypool; rapid handling, by E. M. Mrak; sanitation, by John Kilbuck; and the prune outlook, by Bob McArthur.

Quality improvement is the theme announced for the program, a joint presentation of the California Prune Advisory Board and the University of California.

San Jose Area Schools Continue Driver Training

Driver training classes, including behind-the-wheel instruction in dual control cars, are again offered by three schools in this area: James Lick High School, Campbell High School and San Jose State College. A total of five new Chevrolet have been loaned to these schools by the Bob Coyle Chevrolet Company which has participated in this program for a number of years.

The instruction cars have been equipped with dual brake and clutch controls developed by the American Automobile Association and supplied at cost by the California State Automobile Association. With these controls, the instructor retains complete control of the car at all times.

Harry H. Trefts, CSAA district manager handled arrangements for assignment of the driver training automobiles to the schools.

Besides arranging for the loan of the automobiles, the CSAA also cooperates in the classroom work. It furnishes at cost the textbook "Sportsmanlike Driving", lends equipment for testing students' abilities, and provides without cost material for instruction on traffic laws, accident prevention and driving courtesy.

In continuing this course, the schools join with scores of others in California which provide training in safe and sound driving practices in addition to the classroom instruction required by law.

LICK VS. CAMPBELL GAME HERE FRIDAY

by Bob Olson
"If only our seniors look half as good next Friday against Lick" we heard from many voices, after our Sophomores and Juniors turned back a stubborn group of reserves from Polytechnic High. THIS FRIDAY'S BIG GAMES Lick at Campbell 3 P. M. Mt. View at Washington 8 P. M. Los Gatos at Fremont 8 P. M. Balboa Res. at Santa Clara 8 P. M.
School of San Francisco last Friday afternoon. Victor in this non-conference tilt was Campbell, 14-0, after the Buc Reserves scored big TD's in both the second and fourth quarters on long, down-field drives. Roger Lukehart, Fred Esparza, and Russ Cahill never looked better than they did in Campbell's last period sixty-one drive to a score, when the Bucs needed only five plays in a fine march, which included a surprising thirty-seven yard scamper around left-end by Cahill. The other score was a fourteen yard "line fooler" with Tony LoBue profiting from great blocking by the members of a Buc forward wall which should assure us the greatest defensive unit in the SCVAL next season as well as this.
Tomorrow the whole school will turn out, after an all-school rally, to see the Buc Varsity play its toughest opponent to date, in what should be a see-saw contest, beginning at 3 P. M. Last weekend, Lick was keeping in shape, protecting their fine four won-one tie record by drubbing Balboa's (also of SF) Reserves 26-0, on their East San Jose field. Only a tough Santa Clara eleven has been able to withhold the Comets so far this season and that contest ended in a stirring 14-14 draw. Lick has run rough-shod over all other opponents, thanks to the unbelievably effective pass-completion record of quarterback Hal Nakaji, who is already touted as an All-SCVAL back. The Comets also have two breakaway runners; either of their halfbacks, Larry Fisher or Darrell Danker, is liable to go "all the way on one play." Each of these behemoths scored two touchdowns apiece when the Comets recently routed Washington at Centerville.

There is an interesting rumor in circulation about one of tomorrow's other SCVAL contests. The Wildcats of Los Gatos are supposed to be all set to upset those rampaging Indians tomorrow night just because Canrinus's boys don't like the terms "underdog" or "pushover". Los Gatos introduced a new passing team, Galligan to Sparks, last Friday afternoon when they whipped the Menlo School for Boys, 27-13, and if these boys start clicking at Sunnyvale Friday night, the Indians might be sorry they were so verbally optimistic.
We also predict that Mt. View will finally escape the loop cellar by defeating Washington at Centerville in a battle of the also-rans.

CPL. IKE STEPHENS REPORTS ON SUBWAY TOUR IN 'GAY PAREE'

September 1954
Orleans, France
I and two buddies, arrived in Paris early Saturday afternoon, and checked into a hotel near the Arch of Triumph. A single room each cost us 900 francs ($3.00).
Most of Saturday afternoon we spent walking around the city, seeing the sights. We felt mostly like three of the many thousands of tourists, I think, because we had on our civilian clothes, and there were a surprising number of Americans along the streets of Paris and in the many touring buses. So for a while we forgot Army life and began to enjoy Paris. One of the first places we visited was the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier at the base of the famous Arch of Triumph. Fresh flowers were all laid by the grave, and numerous people were gathered around the grave in quiet remembrance of the past. Soon afterward we went to the top of the Arch and looked out over Paris, climbing hundreds of steps. To the right of the Arch you have a magnificent view of the Eiffel Tower, its height almost in the low hanging clouds, and to your left you view the very beautiful Sacre Couer church, which incidentally along with the Eiffel Tower is one of the famous sights viewed from almost anywhere in Paris. The Avenue Champs Elyees is right below you as you stand on top of the front of the Arch looking down, and the street with long rows of green trees on either side of the busy pavement make a most beautiful sight.
Most of our getting around the city was by Metro, a subway running through tunnels and around

Paris. For 200 francs you get a book of six tickets, each of which may be used twice and you can ride for hours. It is very cheap and extremely fast, as it gets you anywhere you want to go in Paris in minutes almost. Considering the high price of everything in Paris, the Taxis are not too bad.
Most of the night spots have a good floor show. Just to give you a sample, we were sitting there eating when all at once the band on stage started playing some French lively music, and we noticed all the people running out towards the dance floor. They formed a large circle hand in hand and started walking around clockwise to the tune of the music. Well, we were the only Americans in the place, and everyone else almost had gone out there, so we, wanting some action anyhow, decided we weren't going to be left out of the little game whatever it was. So we went out and joined hands with the crowd also. Then two waiters, one a lady and one a man, each with a large cloth napkin entered the center of the circle, and as we marched around to the beat of the music they both picked a partner of the opposite sex and spread the napkin on the floor in front of the selected person, then both knelt down on the napkin facing each other and each planted a big kiss on each cheek of their partner! Then the ones who were chosen would pick a partner and do likewise. It was funny and surprising to see such a game as that played in a public place. I believe the French got as much fun out of it as we did, because they really got a big kick out of us joining the game.
Sunday we decided to go to the famous Louvre, which is where all the famous paintings, statues and what have you are exhibited. At the present time it is the largest palace in the world, and the richest museum in existence. We spent all day in there, and still had to rush like mad to get through it. It was the most fabulous thing I have ever seen! To mention a few of the things we saw, were the famous original MONA LISA painting and VENUS statue, not to mention the great works of art by most the past and present artists from all over the world. Some of the paintings looked as if you could reach out and touch the human flesh, feel the hair, or stroke the beautiful garments. I never knew anything could so much resemble the real thing. It seemed the masterpieces could talk they looked so full of life. If you want to take pictures in the museum of the paintings, statues or anything you have to pay 50 francs for a ticket to take your camera in, and believe me every time you aim the camera about two or three guards tap you on the shoulder and want to see your ticket. You better have one too, or you go and get one. We left the Louvre about four in the afternoon, went and ate our supper and went back to our hotel to get ready to attend the Follies Bergere.

LOTS OF SPIRIT was shown in the second Rally of the school year held on the high school's athletic field the Friday afternoon before the Fremont game. Students are pictured leaving the bleachers after singing four songs and being led in six cheers by the School's cheerleaders and Rally Commission.

The new Mobilgas Station on the corner of Winchester Road and Hamilton Avenue, which is operated by Jack Chappel and Lou Colla, has joined the Campbell Stamp Association according to an announcement today by William Enoch, secretary of the Stamp Association.
This brings to 39 the growing list of Campbell merchants who now belong to the Stamp Association, formed by a group of business men for the benefit of their customers.
Gamma rays are emitted by soil and rock in quantities about 100 times as great as alpha and beta rays.

The Follies Bergere started at 8:30 p. m. and ended at midnight. We bought our ticket (1500 francs) through the hotel, a few days before we arrived in Paris so we were able to reserve a good seat. We decided to be daring and take a cab. But we got there in one piece, fought our way through the mob waiting to get their tickets and were promptly ushered to our seats by one of about 25 or 30 usherettes. They expect a tip by the way.
At 8:30 the curtain parted and began what was to me three and one-half hours of one of the finest productions I have ever witnessed. There hasn't been a word found to describe the beauty of the magnificent scenery, lighting and costumes. It is out of this world, a dreamland of beauty. The entire production was in French, but you aren't listening to the words, you

with WATER every day

By CHARLES B. PARBURY
Vice President and General Manager

One hot day this past summer I was watching some kids splashing around in a backyard plastic pool. Their mother called out: "What are you youngsters up to now?"
The eldest child yelled back: "We are making believe that San Jose is a lake and we're swimming to where Daddy works!"
It was an amusing bit of childish imagination, but it started me thinking about the tremendous amount of water that we in the San Jose Water Works produce and distribute in a year to satisfy the growing needs of this area. Just how much of a "lake" would 9,165 million gallons create?

Calling on our figure expert, Joe Slide-Rule, I was informed that if we could confine our entire yearly water production behind a system of dikes, we would cover the 13,300 acres within the city limits of San Jose with more than two feet of water.
We really could make a "Lake San Jose," with boating, sailing and swimming for the kids. But just think about all the flooded basements!
On second thought, San Jose is a mighty fine place the way it is, so we'll just forget about the "lake" and keep on with our job of supplying our consumers with all the good, pure water they need, twenty-four hours a day and 365 days of the year.

STATE TO EXTEND THE BAYSHORE FREEWAY FROM SAN MATEO LINES

A formal agreement was approved by the Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors on Monday in which the State Highway Commission lists interchanges, grade separations and overpasses planned for the bayshore freeway extension from the San Mateo County line to Brokaw Road.

The interchanges are to be at Embarcadero Road, San Antonio Road, Rengstorff avenue, Middlefield road, Stierlin road, Moffett boulevard, Pastoria avenue, Lawrence Station road, Stockton avenue and an extension of Scott lane.

At Fair Oaks avenue a grade separation is planned while an overpass is provided for the Santa Clara-Alviso Road.

Rice, valued at $26,993,223, was the third most valuable export commodity shipped through the San Francisco Customs District in 1953.

CHARLES E. HENDERSON, Grand Master of California Odd Fellows who tonight pays an official visit to Saratoga Lodge No. 428, following a dinner at Hacienda Inn. Louis L. Gray, District Deputy Grand Master, in charge of arrangements says five lodges in District 107 are participating in the program.

Surprise Party For Librarian

Mrs. George Simons, local librarian was the honoree at a combined dinner and birthday party given Tuesday evening in the Roy Stoner home at 250 S. Union Avenue, by Mrs. Stoner and Mrs. W. D. Bee of 2 North San Jose-Los Gatos Road.

Following the dinner, gifts were presented to the surprised and delighted guest of honor who told her hosts and hostesses she had not had a party since her sixteenth birthday. After Mrs. Simons had made her birthday wish, everyone helped her blow out the sixteen candles on the birthday cake. The group entertained themselves with chess and group singing.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Bee, Mr. and Mrs. George Simons, Mrs. Ronnie Stoner, Miss Grace Stoner, and Vern Winkler.

JOAN LOUISE VELANDER IS BRIDE OF CHARLES CUTTING

The Church of the Good Shepherd, a Lutheran church on Meridian avenue was the setting for the candlelight services October 22 which united Joan Louise Velander in marriage to Charles Douglass Cutting. The Reverend Constant Johnson performed the ceremony.

For her wedding Joan chose a ballerina-length gown of white lace over satin, styled with a fitted bodice, which featured a scalloped neckline, and a bouffant skirt. Her fingertip veil was caught to a crown of seed pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and bouvardia centered with a detachable orchid corsage. She was escorted to the altar by her father Elmer J. Velander.

Matron of Honor was Joyce Holt, twin sister of the bride, who wore a gown of yellow net over taffeta featuring a lace bodice and bouffant skirt. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet of white daisies with yellow centers.

Howard Hansen performed the duties of best man. Jess Holt and Bob Kruse served as ushers.

For her son's wedding, the mother of the groom donned a black faille gown and pinned on a corsage of white carnations.

The bride was escorted down the aisle by her father, Elmer J. Velander to the strains of the wedding march played by Raymond Elvin. Lloyd Nelson sang "Because" and the "Lord's Prayer."

Joan is the daughter of Elmer J. Velander of 950 Peggy Lane, and sister of Mrs. Joyce Holt. She graduated from Campbell Union High School, attended San Jose State College, and worked as secretary at San Jose State College.

Charles is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald McFarlane of Menlo Park. He is a graduate of Campbell Union High School and San Jose State College and is now employed at Douglas Aircraft in Santa Monica.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Campbell Women's Clubhouse where the young couple received the felicitations of 150 guests and cut their four tier wedding cake centered in a table decor of magnolia leaves and chrysanthemums.

For her going away ensemble the bride donned a navy blue faille dress, carried a tangerine coat and pinned on a white corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The young couple will make their future home in Santa Monica.

Youth Center Study Tonight

Need for a youth recreation center in Campbell for teen-age boys and girls will be discussed this evening when members of the police auxiliary, police department and city council meet at the Red Coach Inn, according to Nick Dimuzio, chairman of committee on arrangements.

Speaker of the evening is to be Judge Edwin Owens of the Santa Clara county Superior Court.
